Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 1714

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 42-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Hammond et al (US 5,753,782).

Hammond et al teach a biodegradable composition comprising a polyhydroxyalkanoate in abstract. The preferred polyhydroxyalkanoate is PHB or PHBV, which may be 3-hydroxy or 4-hydroxy or a mixture of both (col. 2, lines 57-58). Thus, PHB with a mixture of 3-hydroxy and 4-hydroxy meets the instant polymer. See In re Arkley, 455 F. 2d 586, 172 USPQ 524 (CCPA) and In re Petering, 301 F. 2d 676, 133 USPQ 275 (CCPA 1962); The degree of selection from the disclosure is not so great to militate against a finding of anticipation under 35 USC 102.

Hammond et al also teach boron nitride as nucleants and various shaping operations at col. 6,
